ASIA SCHOOL OF BUSINESS
BOARD OF GOVERNOR

ZETI AKHTAR AZIZ

(Co-Chair)

Malaysia

Former Governor,
Central Bank of Malaysia

Dr. Zeti served as Governor of Bank Negara Malaysia from May 2000 until April 2016. In her career at the central bank, she had an important role in successfully managing the repair and resolution of the financial system during the Asian financial crisis and the consequent strong recovery of the economy in Malaysia. In the following decade, she also had an important role in the financial reform and transformation of the Malaysian financial system including overseeing the enactment of ten new major pieces of legislation for the financial sector. This period also saw the progressive liberalization of the Malaysian financial system.

In the Asian region, Dr. Zeti was actively involved in strengthening cooperation and regional financial integration. In 2006, she chaired the regional task force that prepared the report for the future direction of central bank financial cooperation in the East Asian region. An important voice for the emerging world, she was a founding member of the Bank for International Settlements (BIS) Asian Consultative Council, and was also the first co-chair of the Financial Stability Board Regional Consultative Group for Asia. She was the Chair of the BIS Central Bank Governance Group. Dr. Zeti also had an extensive role in the global development of Islamic finance. She was also active in the global financial inclusion agenda. She is currently the Co-chair Board of Governors of Asia School of Business, established in collaboration with MIT Sloan.

Dr. Zeti received her PhD in Economics from the University of Pennsylvania.

ASIA SCHOOL OF BUSINESS
BOARD OF GOVERNOR

TONY F. FERNANDES

Malaysia
Group CEO &
Director, AirAsia
Berhad

One of ASEAN's most recognizable entrepreneurs, Tan Sri Dr. Tony Fernandes is best known for founding AirAsia, the first low cost airline in Malaysia. Fernandes famously bought the ailing airline for a token of RM 1 (approximately 26 US cents) and helmed its expansion from a Malaysia-based domestic carrier to an airline group domiciled in 6 countries, serving over 100 destinations across 24 countries. Under his stewardship, AirAsia has become Asia's largest low-cost airline group.

Fernandes studied at Epsom College, UK and the London School of Economics and qualified as an Associate Member of the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants in 1991 and a Fellow Member in 1996. An accountant by training, Fernandes began his career in Richard Branson's Virgin Group before returning to Malaysia as Warner Music Group's Vice-President for Southeast Asia.

Fernandes is also the co-founder of Tune Group, a leisure and entertainment corporation. Tune family of companies share a passion for creativity and ingenuity. The group thrives on providing exciting products and services for all walks of life. From The English football club Queen's Park Rangers, prepaid telecommunications company Tune Talk, value hotel chain Tune Hotels and insurance provider Tune Protect, Tune Group is driven by their mission to improve and impact the lives of all who use their services.

Fernandes has received numerous awards and accolades over the course of his illustrious career including the Honor of the Commander of the Order of the British Empire, conferred by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II in 2011 for services to promote commercial and educational links between the UK and Malaysia. The French government conferred upon him the Officier of the Legion d'Honneur award, and later the Commander of the Legion d'Honneur for outstanding contributions towards the economy of France through the aviation industry.

He was awarded the Inaugural 'Travel Business Leaders Award' and the 'Innovator of the Year' award by CNBC and the Center for Asia Pacific Aviation's (CAPA) honored him the Legend Award and inducted him to CAPA's Aviation Hall of Fame. Forbes Asia also named him its Businessman of the Year for 2010. Fernandes was the first person in the ASEAN region to receive the prestigious award.
